

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: October, 2009

For more information or interviews contact:

Chuck Little, CDT, Little Dental Lab, Inc., Owner, Certified Dental Technician

LONG-TIME LOCAL DENTAL TECHNICIAN CELEBRATES MORE THAN 21 YEARS IN BUSINESS BY UNVEILING UNIQUE ARTISTIC AND ENGINEERING TALENTS!

Durango, Colo., October, 2009 – Chuck Little, Certified Dental Technician (CDT) and one of the most experienced CDT in the Four Corners region, is proud to announce not only being in business for more than 21 years but also his creation of artistic tooth fairies—small one-of-a-kind porcelain figurines constructed from thin gauge wax wire and then cast out of precious metal using the lost wax technique. Mr. Little said each piece takes special steps to construct by hand—the same as building specialized crowns and bridges for his dental customers.

“The original idea for creating these porcelain fairies came from the constant reference to the tooth fairy when I tried to explain the responsibilities of a dental technician,” said Mr. Little. “Our work is very important for the health and aesthetics of people that we are constructing dental crowns for and I take it very seriously. The tooth fairies are a fun compliment to that work.”

The body and wings of the fairies are built using specially modified dental porcelain powders. The figure is then placed into a porcelain oven and fired. The sculptures must fit within the small porcelain furnace chamber and conform to the strict confines of the materials, very similar to the construction and engineering of the crowns and bridges that Mr. Little creates.

“There is nothing more important to me than making sure I’m constructing high-quality, safe and pleasing crowns and bridges, for my customers,” said Mr. Little. “And since everything is made here, locally, with American Dental Association (ADA) approved products and materials, my clients can be confident that their work will be completed quickly, accurately and safely.”

Chuck Little has over 30 years of experience as a dental technician, with 23 of those years as a Certified Dental Technician. He has studied with some of the most respected technicians in the world including; Geller, Sang, Culp, Yoshida, Sieber and Aiba.

For more information about Chuck Little, CDT, and Little Dental Lab, please call 970.259.3787 or email info@littledentallab.com.

#